El Camino SS. The American Classic.

The Original El Camino SS was produced by Choo Choo Customs for GM from mid-1983 until the El Camino series was discontinued at the end of 1987.

In addition to the aerodynamic nose treatment that was the primary styling feature of all El Camino SS, all vehicles received graphics on the fascia, doors, and tailgate, and a small chrome train logo above the glove compartment door.

Vehicles manufactured in 1987 also have a Choo Choo Customs logo with train on the front fascia and tailgate. A limited number of El Camino SS had aerodynamic-ground effect style side exhausts with rectangular chrome exits.

In 1986, Chevrolet was the official truck of the Indianapolis 500 and a specially developed El Camino SS was one of the featured vehicles that performed on-track services before and throughout the race. This one-only El Camino SS featured an aluminum 350 CID Chevy engine and functioning strobe headlights and tail lights, plus a roll bar mounted strobe light system.

The same high quality GM approved components that made the original El Camino SS unique are available for restoration, customizing, and crash replacement.

These components are now available for enthusiasts who want to create an El Camino SS of their own. All of the El Camino SS products in this catalog are made on original tooling to exacting specifications and standards.

The nose assembly and other components fit all El Caminos '78 through '87, and the popular Chevrolet Malibu '78 through '83.

Let us show you how to make your "Heartbeat" a little faster with genuine El Camino SS components only from Choo Choo Customs.

Early El Camino SS until mid-1985 used aluminum body side molding with a machine-turned center and two vinyl inserts running full length of the molding. Later El Camino SS used a more rounded style body side molding. Some vehicles used factory side molding and fender well trim.

Many El Camino SS were equipped with aluminum wheels. Early vehicles had center caps with styling holes. Later vehicles featured solid center caps.

Aluminum cargo rails were also installed on numerous vehicles.

A special El Camino SS was the only truck to ever pace an IROC race. This IROC-S also featured the trademark aerodynamic front end design, IROC-S urethane paint in custom candy colors, and 16" aluminum wheels. Approximately fifteen IROC-S were built between '85 and '86.

Applications:

1978-1987 El Camino

1978-1983 Malibu

Choo Choo Customs' exclusive El Camino SS "A" body Fascia Assembly is the result of uncompromising GM quality control and the finest in engineering excellence and craftsmanship. The design incorporates a modified factory front bumper concealed behind the flexible nose fascia. The El Camino SS retains full Original Equipment Manufacturer (O.E.M.) crash test compliance.

The flexible front nose is formed of elastometric polyurethane RIM material—the same high quality material used by GM for the nose and rear fascias on the Corvette,

Monte Carlo, and other models. Reaction injection molded (RIM) elastometric polyurethane is GM's primary choice for technologically advanced bumper fascias and other styling components.

Brackets and special components are included.
